Press Release | 01 March 2020

DUE TO HEAVY SNOWFALL, THE ALPINE COMBINED IN LA THUILE IS CANCELED

FIS assigns the Alpine Combined's globe to Federica Brignone

The Organizing Committee worked all night to keep clean the 3-Franco Berthod course. In La Thuile, however, winter came back and more than half a meter of fresh snow has fallen in the upper part of the area. The jury had an early morning inspection and then decided to cancel the women's Alpine combined.

With two races held and other two canceled, FIS assigns the Albine Combined's globe to Federica Brignone who won both the Altenmarkt and Crans Montana races. In the cup ranking, second and third positions go to Wendy Holdener and Ester Ledecka.

Killy Martinet, La Thuile Organizing Committee President said: "It was a really busy week, we had a good race yesterday, today unfortunately we had to cancel the Alpine Combined because the conditions did not allow the regular running of the race. Our men started working at 2 in the morning, but the ground was still not appropriate for this kind of competition".
